

Netherlands Academy of Engineering (NAE) strengthens its international position.

29 september 2023

The Netherlands Academy of Engineering received Euro-CASE membership from Chair Tuula Teeri on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at Euro-CASE's annual conference, this year in Madrid. During the Euro-CASE board meeting, the 22 EU sister academies voted unanimously in favour of NAE's membership. NAE thus takes over from AcTI, the former Netherlands representative organization within Euro-CASE. Membership lays the foundation for NAE to represent the interests of the Dutch engineering ecosystem internationally and will help promote with international clout a vital and effective climate of responsible, inclusive and impactful engineering-based innovation in the Netherlands and in Europe.

The theme of this year's annual Euro-CASE conference was 'Energy Challenges in Europe The Role of Engineering in Securing Supplies and Technologies'.
